5.3

premium pass

The PREMIUM PASS service offers preferential access to security screening and access to the LA CROIXDU SUD lounge. This service can only be offered to passengers declared eligible by the airlines; the applicable pricing terms and eligibility terms are as follows:

Fixing of prices

For each airline, the applicable price is calculated according to the number of LOUNGE entries made by their passengers, as per the price list set out in Article 5.3, on the express condition that this number of entries totals at least 15% of the number of passenger passes through preferential security screening. The PREMIUM PASS service shall then be invoiced by monthly invoicing of the lounge entries.

If the number of LOUNGE entries is below 15% of the number of passenger passes through preferential security screening, the applicable rate will be calculated based on a fixed number of entries equalling 15% of the number of passenger passes through preferential security screening.

Example: for AAA airline, for 1,000 passenger passes through preferential security screening, if the number of LOUNGE entries equals 200, the applicable rate will be 200 x the rate for the "1st to 1,000th passenger/ year» bracket; if the number of entries only equals 100, which is below the fixed minimum of 150, the applicable rate will equal 150 x the rate for the «1st to 1,000th passenger" bracket.

The difference between the number of actual entries and the fixed number of entries shall be invoiced each month, added to the invoicing of the lounge entries and adopted for the cumulative total of the number of lounge entries for the following months.

Eligibility

After declaring a passenger eligible, each airline must issue said passenger a travel document containing a computer code specifying the passenger's eligibility for the PREMIUM PASS service.

Were preferential security screening to be degraded, more restrictive acceptance criteria may be required after consultation with the airlines.
